For the second time in less than three weeks Kentucky State Troopers from Post 5 in Campbellsburg have made an arrest in Trimble County following the discovery of a meth lab.

An investigation by Troopers from Post 5 led to the arrest of 45-year-old Bedford resident David Leach for manufacturing methamphetamine. According to Trooper Brad Arterburn, KSP Post 5 Public Information Officer, troopers went to the home of Leach, located at 3419 Bray Ridge Road, troopers found a small amount of finished methamphetamine.

Leach, a convicted felon, was also in possession of a firearm. There were no children present in the home.

Leach was charged

Family

and sisters shouldn't fight like mortal enemies, a little healthy competition is okay, but siblings should always stick up for each other. If there are rifts in your family, do your best to heal them, and strive to help your family and always be there in times of need. We should have this same attitude to our extended family, to our aunts and uncles, nieces and nephews, and even distant cousins. But, we should also realize that we are all God's children and thus part of the human family. No doubt it pains God to see his children fighting and killing each other, no less than it pains human parents when they see their children fighting.

"From one man he made all the nations, that they should inhabit the whole earth; and he marked out their appointed times in history and the boundaries of their lands. God did this so that they would seek him and perhaps reach out for him and find him, though he is not far from any one of us. . . . As some of your own poets have said, 'We are his offspring.'"

TRIMBLE HOSTS 29TH DISTRICT TOURNAMENT

Raiders fall after ‘tremendous’ effort

By DAVE TAYLOR
The Trimble Banner

It was “one and done” on Tuesday night for the host Trimble County Raiders in last week’s opening round of the Kentucky High School Athletic Association’s 29th District Tournament. The Raiders knew the deck was stacked against them when they faced South Oldham, the number one seed in the district. Trimble had fallen to the Dragons by 56 points (92-36) on Dec. 13 at home.

“Our goal was to not turn it over and get good shots at all times,” Trimble Coach John Leep III said. “We figure every time we take a shot is a win for us because sometimes the more we pass it there’s more opportunities for us to turn it over. I think we only had four turnovers in the first half. “Defensively, our strategy was to get out on their shooters and make them drive into the lane, then step over and take charges and limit them to one shot,” Leep said. “About eight of their points in the first half were off of second chances. They’re a good enough team to beat anybody in our region on one shot but if they get two shots or three shots a trip they’re almost unbeatable. We wanted to limit them to one shot. In the first half we did a pretty good job, in the second half we didn’t do a very good job at all.”

While the Raiders’ 2012 postseason experience was limited to 32 minutes they battled hard. Trimble was still very much in the ballgame at the halfway point, trailing by 14 at 41-27.

“The effort was tremendous,” Leep said of his team’s performance through two quarters of play. “We scrapped, took some charges and we really took care of the ball well in the first half. When we take care of the ball we can play with anybody in our region. Our thing is turnovers, though, and our turnovers caught up with us in the second half.”

The Dragons opened the second half with six unanswered points and continued to widen the gap in the third period, holding a 67-42 advantage at the third quarter stop. South Oldham connected at a 52 percent clip from the field in the second half while limiting Trimble’s offensive percentage to 31 percent. The Raiders, who had converted 71 percent of their first half free throws, sank only three of 10 in the second half.

“We left way too much meat on the bone when it came to shooting free throws,” Leep said. “We had a couple of opportunities to go to the line for three and would come away with one. One time in the first half we went for a double bonus and came away 0 for two. That’s plagued us all year. We’ve worked hard to get better at them but it hasn’t come to fruition during the games.”

The Dragons, who Leep acknowledged are “a little deeper than we are,” went on another 10-0 tear early in the fourth quarter en route to the final 36-point margin. “We got a little fatigued and as your body becomes fatigued so does your mind,” he said. “The turnovers set in and they just got too many easy baskets there in the second half.”

Leep said his players gave a much better account of themselves in their second matchup with the Dragons, adding “the growth of this team has been tremendous from day one until right now.” But he acknowledged South Oldham had also improved since December. “They’re better than when we played them the first time,” he said. “We’re also better. We’ve come a long way. Unfortunately, the gap was too big. We’re going to get to work on closing that gap immediately.”

Trimble’s offensive effort was led by five of the team’s seven seniors. Skiler Alexander paced the Raider offensive drive with 17 points, Austin Rexroat added 10, Michael Gonterman, Dylan Staples and Craig Ward each contributed eight points in the losing effort.

“They all have their special skills but they’re very special people, not only to

Lady Raiders’ dreams of regional dashed at line with .4 remaining

By DAVE TAYLOR
The Trimble Banner

The late American essayist and poet Ralph Waldo Emerson once observed, “The reward of a thing well done is to have done it.”

That sentiment would likely have brought little solace to the Trimble County Lady Raiders after a hard-fought, one-point loss to Oldham County’s Lady Colonels in a first-round game of the KHSAA 29th District Tournament last Wednesday. Trimble held a five-point advantage (43-38) with just under four minutes left to play. They were up 51-48 with less than a minute to go, and with a win assuring the victor of a trip to the regional tournament for the first time in several years, the Lady Raiders “were tasting it,” according to Trimble Coach Kerrie Stewart.

Oldham pulled within one, at 51-50, with 25 seconds remaining.

That’s when the gremlins attacked the basket with the Lady Raiders at the free throw line and a chance to increase their margin with the clock stopped. Chloe Griffith sank one of two to give Trimble a 52-50 advantage. Oldham came up empty-handed on their next possession. Griffith was fouled again and missed the front end of a one-and-bonus free throw situation.

Oldham County grabbed the rebound and Ashley McMurtry dashed the length of the floor for a layup to tie the game and was fouled with four-tenths seconds remaining on the clock. Stewart called for time to give McMurtry a few seconds for the adrenaline to wane hoping for a missed free throw.

McMurtry converted the free toss. On the inbounds play Trimble’s Paige Black heaved a desperation shot that fell short and Trimble was relegated to go to the locker room for the final time of the 2011-12 season on the short end of a 53-52 score.

“The kids fought hard, they battled,” Stewart said. “To lose by one with .4 seconds to go on the free throw line is heart-wrenching. You’re at the point where you’re tasting it. We were right there. In a game like this a free throw, a layup, a loose ball, a rebound, everything is just magnified. Every possession is so valuable. Because it was so close any one thing could’ve changed

TAKING FLIGHT

Senior cheerleader Danielle Morgan soared to new heights prior to Wednesday’s girls’ game between Trimble County and Oldham County during the 29th District Tournament at Bedford. Despite the best efforts of Trimble cheer squad and enthusiastic fan support both Trimble’s girls’ and boys’ teams fell to defeat in first round tournament games.

NRCS high tunnel program available to Kentucky farmers

After several years of pilot tests in states surrounding Kentucky, the seasonal high-tunnel program through the Natural Resources and Conservation Service Equip (Environmental Quality Incentives Program) program is available in Kentucky. High tunnels are of continuing interest to small vegetable producers because they facilitate direct marketing programs according to Tim Coolong, UK Extension Vegetable Specialist. They extend the season, allow farmers to increase income; and allow for popular early-tomato production, which is very popular. Greens grown in high tunnels

Agriculture News

are also increasing in popularity, as farmers can produce them almost year-round; few other year-round products exist, so there are viable outlets for greens in many parts of the state.

High tunnels are a very good fit for small producers, (they may not be appropriate for a large commercial grower). With approximately 80 percent of Kentucky's 10,000 acres of vegetables produced by direct-market growers, high tunnels have immense appeal.

There is no rainfall in a high tunnel, so growers need to use more water. However, the high tunnel reduces disease because no water splashes vegetables, providing a much cleaner end product. High tunnels have high usage in the organic world; they are very effective for high intensity growing and provide high yields of high quality vegetables. By using high tunnels to produce for retail markets, you can capitalize on early season sales, as well as extend the season.

Here are some details of the program:

- There are now two deadlines left to apply: March 30 and June 1.

- You must apply through your local NRCS office. Contact Randy Van Mater at 502-845-2890 or the Trimble County Conservation District at 502-255-0074.

- This program does pay for materials costs. It offers matching funds that pay for the cost of assembling a high tunnel. It does not matter if you choose to build it yourself or hire someone, as you will get reimbursed the same amount per square foot of tunnel.

- You must use a tunnel kit to be eligible for this program. You cannot have someone locally bend bows and make a tunnel; it must be sold by a tunnel manufacturer.

- This program reimburses growers on a square foot basis with a maximum of 2,178 square feet covered. You may choose to buy a larger tunnel than this (essentially 30' x 72') however, the program will only reimburse growers up to 2,178 square feet.

- This program requires that you grow the plants in the native soil. Plants cannot be container grown or grown on benches in the tunnels. You can use raised beds.

- During the life of this program, you must make repairs to the tunnel as necessary. For example, if a wind storm comes and blows part of the tunnel down after one year, you must repair it.

- These must truly be high tunnels, so no supplemental heating can be used.

- This is a competitive program. Once the applications are compiled locally and ranked, they will be sent to Washington D.C. for evaluation.

- If you are an organic farmer or in the process of transitioning to organic farming, you may also apply for the high tunnel program through the NRCS Equip Organic Initiative, a funding source which has not been fully utilized in Kentucky in the past.

For more information, please visit <http://www.nrcs.usda.gov/wps/portal/nrcs/detailfull/national/programs/financial/equip/?&cid=stelpdb1046250> or contact the Trimble County Cooperative Extension Service at 502-255-7188.

Exercise and catching a cold

It seems that this time of year the cold is a common occurrence. There are certain factors that increase your risk of getting a cold such as: smoking, stress, poor nutrition and missing sleep. Can being more physically active reduce the chances that you will get a cold?

Being more physically active will help strengthen your immune system which in turn can help the body fight off a cold. Recent research studies have shown that when the body is being active that immune cells in our bodies

Consumer News

are able to move through the body more quickly. The cells are also better able to fight the bacteria and or viruses in the body!

Interestingly, when the person stops being active the body's immune cells return to normal fairly quickly. It seems that we need consistent physically activity to get longer lasting benefits.

On the other hand, when the body is fighting bacteria or virus, too much exercise can have a negative effect. So if you are starting to not feel well, you should still be active, but do not overtrain, go with a simple easy activity. If you are not feeling well and have a fever, then you should not exercise and get rest instead. Wait until all of the symptoms are gone before you return to your usual routine. You may need up to two weeks to get back to your usual workout.
